^{*}On Friday May 8, 2009 Forensic Legal Nurse Consultants withdrew their bid package. The following Recommend will reflect s Forensic Legal Nurse Consultants withdraw.

Specifications:

Specifications are satisfactory and allowed for open competition.

Delavs:

No significant delays occurred. Various minor, yet time consuming delays can be attributed to a large learning curve, contract clearances, agency approvals, vendor verifications.

Preferences

Tri-Tech Forensics claimed the US Manufactured Preference. Rayson Healthcare, INC claimed the Indiana Small Business Preference, however, after reviewing their bid package, it was discovered that they did not qualified for the Indiana Small Business Preference. Sirchie Acquisition Company, LLC did not claim any preferences. Tri-Tech is the only vendor who bid the US Manufactured Preference. I'm requesting an exception to award outside that preference for a savings of $299,871.15 ($1,098,230.78 - $796,513.60).

Recommendation Narrative:

Round 1

Rayson Healthcare, INC was the lowest bidder in round one. However, they had 87 no bids, which explains their lower cost. Furthermore, they claimed the Indiana Small Business Preference, but in fact misunderstood. They are a small business just not in the state of Indiana. They met all requested specifications and were moved forward to Round Two.

Sirchie Acquisition Company, LLC was the second lowest bidder in round one and did not claim any preference. They meet all required and requested specifications and were moved forward to Round Two.

Forensic Legal Nurse Consultants had the third lowest bid in round one. They claimed the Indiana Small Business Preference, which caries an evaluation factor of 15%. They also met all requested specifications and were moved forward to Round Two.

Tri-Tech Forensics had the highest bid in round one. They claimed the US Manufactured preference, which an exception is requested. They had four items that did not meet agency specifications. However, the rest of the bid met all required and requested specifications and was moved forward to Round Two.

Round 2

Fair & Reasonable Pricing:

Pricing is fair and reasonable based on open competition and by prices submitted.

Split Award:

A split award is recommended. By splitting the award and awarding every item to the lowest evaluated price, we will save $32,179.66. Savings from bidding out these items is $341,208.03 (Estimated amount – lowest first round prices: $1,152,408.58- $811,200.55) Actual savings to the State of Indiana through negotiated bidding is $7,413. 77 (First Round Lowest Pricing – Second Round Lowest Pricing: $805,773.40- $798,359.63). Overall net savings is $355,894.40 (Estimated Amount – Second Round lowest Pricing: $1,152,408- $796,513.60) It should be reiterated that the lowest prices from each round has been calculated with the preferences in place as well as splitting the award to each lowest bidder.
